“From Luxury to Log” NatureRails™ are perfect for any home

NatureRails™ offers artistic balcony, deck and staircase railing designed by artist Rob Gerdin. Rob is an accomplished artist, working with airbrush, acrylics and also as a professional graphic designer. NatureRails offer beautiful, safe, and functional works of art as a replacement for common balusters. Bring a wonderful picture of nature into your home!

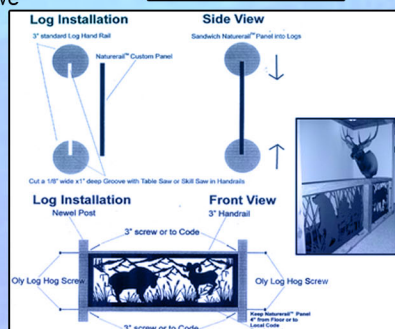

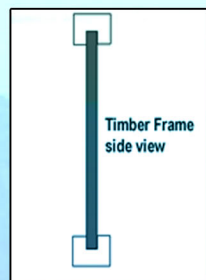

Working closely with the designer's office, each order is uniquely produced with the customer selected theme, size requirements and color choice. After design, an artwork proof is sent to the customer for review prior to production. Railing is manufactured from 10 gauge (1/8th") solid sheet pickled & oiled steel. It costs a little more, but it improves durability of the materials used in our products. The design is then cut with state-of-the-art water jet machines. To finish your products NatureRails™ use powder coat paints, which is a durable baked-on enamel finish. Your product is first sandblasted to clean the metal and then coated to a large selection of colors and textures to meet your decorating needs. Don't see what you're looking for? Just ask, we have access to literally hundreds of colors. We offer some of the most durable finishes available today, making your product suitable for interior or exterior usage.

NatureRails™ specializes in custom designs, but for the consumer who wants something quickly for installation, check our latest design idea's at our web site www.naturerails.com. From there, click on the "Designers Choice" tab, and find standard sized designs at a lower price.

Custom inquires for special projects, wall murals, logo's, window inserts, fire place screens, signs, or other railing themes welcome.
